

"Liuli" is a kind of gemstone which is "one of the seven treasures of Buddhism".

"Liuli" didn't originally exist in western civilization.
It was replaced by "Glaze" in the first place.
Another word "Colored glaze" or "Glaze glass" came out after to describe it.

But it still unable to show the dignity of Liuli.

Therefore... the word "LIULI" was born, which is directly pronounced in Chinese!

San Fang is using the latest technology to presented the original glaze colored completely on the appearance of TPU film.
